

Cold, Cold War

I think I know the way it was Behind the grey Berlin-wall
How bad they felt, I'm almost certain Back in the days of the Iron-curtain

That's just like us and the words we speak
Like chains and bars they hurt and defeat
Deep in our hearts we need to start Negotiations for peace and detente

chorus:

When the cold war is over and the fighting comes to an end
You and I might find love again
When the cold, cold war is over

What used to be is no more
What happens next we don't know
Day by day we're living on a thin line
Between the past and the rest of our lives

When the cold war is over
and the fighting comes to an end
You and I might find love again
When the cold, cold war is over

Can we leave the guns behind
I think it's time for a change of mind

When the cold war is over
and the fighting comes to an end
You and I might find love again

When the cold war is over
and the fighting comes to an end
You and I might find love again
When the cold, cold war is over
When the cold, cold war is over
